These are not political issues.
These are Constitutional crimes against the People!

The Constitution cannot defend itself: The People must do it!

Thankfully, the Constitution includes a powerful, but little-known clause to directly hold the government accountable.

This "capstone Right" - the protector of all other Rights - is the Right the government hopes you'll never learn about, much less exercise.

Come learn about the profound legal tool provided by our Founders that can restore Constitutional Order without electing a single politician or firing a single musket.

Learn the historical context and original intent of the little-known Right to Petition for Redress of Grievances that could quickly force our government to fix virtually every violation against the Constitution.

It's time to stand in defense of the Constitution and learn what the last ten words of the First Amendment really mean.

The Right to Petition is not about Free Speech. It's not about protesting everyday "political" questions. It's the most powerful weapon in law the People possess to enforce our Constitution and secure our unalienable Rights.

It's time to organize to exercise this Right!

Let's join together to reclaim our Rights & Liberties!
The Revolution continues...
